

Sagent Residential Treatment Center

If you are struggling with substance use, Sagent's Residential Treatment Center (RTC) can offer you the support and stability you need for true recovery. We work with adults with substance use disorders and co-occurring mental health conditions who require a higher level of support than outpatient services can provide.

Our 54-bed facility offers a safe, stable, and structured environment where you can begin recovery with continuous supervision and clinical care.

Treatment is integrated to address substance use, mental health symptoms, interpersonal functioning, and readiness for change. Our teams work with you to build foundational recovery skills and prepare you for successful transition to outpatient care.
